Berlin, December 7, N. S.

WHAT we know here of the Operations in Lusatia is, that upon the 2d Instant the King of Prussia was at Gorlitz, and expected to arrive as Yesterday at Kloster Marienstern, which is about Five German Miles distant from Dresden towards the North. The Saxons and Austrians are encamping near Dresden, and unless they retreat at the Approach of both the King of Prussia's, and the Prince of Anhalt's Armies, it is not doubted but a decisive Battle will ensue. There is no certain Advice hitherto what Route the Prince's Army is taking. General Potentz, with the Corps under his Command, has likewise entered Lower Lusatia, and taken Guben, where it is said he found a considerable Saxon Magazine. They are now busy in the Prussian Camps in raising Contributions. The Town of Leipzig is taxed at a Million of Dollars, of which they say 800,000 are already paid. Upper Lusatia advances the Charges of Winter Quarters for Six Months to the whole Army, which are distributed in the following Manner, viz. A common Soldier is to have, besides his Subsistence, two good Grossen a Day, an Under Officer a Florin, a Subaltern four Florins, which, as it raises in Proportion, brings to the Chief of the Regiment 2500 Dollars for his Share, and this Money is to be paid without Delay as a Douceur for Winter Quarters. It is generally reported here, that two or three Regiments of Hesse Darmstadt are expected at Halle. His Polish Majesty and all the Royal Family are, as it is assured here, at Toplitz in Bohemia. By Advices just received, the Prince of Anhalt removed on the 5th Instant with his Army from Eulenburg (which Place, it is said, has been plunder'd) to Dresden; the Castle called Pleiffenburg at Leipzig has surrendered; and Count Podewils and M. Fockerott are to set out this Night for the King of Prussia's Camp.

Frankfort, Dec. 12. Baron Ramswach has communicated to the Congress here, on the Part of the Empress Queen of Hungary, that her Majesty had given Orders for recalling her Army from the Rhine into her hereditary Countries.

Hague, Dec. 17, N. S. The Government of Brussels has order'd three Battalions of Troops out of Brussels, and Three more out of Mons, to march into Luxemburg. The English Squadron in the Mediterranean compelled the Town of Bastia to surrender to the King of Sardinia upon the 21st past. We hear from Paris, that the Abbe de la Ville has been named first Commis in the Department of Foreign Affairs, in the Room of M. du Thiel, who is put into the Post the Abbe had before in the Paper Office. We have Advices that another Embarkation of Troops is preparing for England at Dunkirk. That upon the 10th a Courier arrived at Versailles from Marshal Maillebois, with an Account, that the Town of Trin in Piedmont had surrendered by Capitulation to the Infant; and that a violent Storm upon the 28th past had done great Damage to all the Ships in the Road of Brest, and to most of the Shipping in General upon the Coast of France.

Doncaster, Dec. 8. The Horse and Dragoons of Marshal Wade's Army are in this Town, and the Foot at Ferrybridge.

Merriden, December 9, Six in the Morning.

Yesterday Morning his Royal Highness put himself at the Head of all the Horse and Dragoons, and a Thousand Volunteers, to endeavour to stop the Rebels, and give the Foot Time to come up; but we hear that they are retiring Northward with great Precipitation.

Sir John Ligonier is this Moment marching from hence with the Brigade of Guards and Sempil's Regiment to Litchfield.

Litchfield, Dec. 9. Our freshest Accounts concerning the Progress of the Rebels are of last Night. By them we learn, that an advanced Party had reached Manchester at Eleven at Night, and that the main Body of them marched out of Leek Yesterday Morning. Some small Parties of them had raised Alarms at Newcastle; and we hear that they do more Mischief now in the Country, than when they came.

His Royal Highness is here with all the Cavalry, and a Body of Foot mounted, and preparing to continue his March in Pursuit of the Rebels.

War-Office, Dec. 10, 1745.

Whereas it hath been represented to his Majesty, that many Non-Commission Officers and private Men have deserted from the Regiments or Corps to which they did formerly belong, and have since enter'd themselves in other Regiments or Corps in his Majesty's Service, where they continue; his Majesty is therefore graciously pleased hereby to grant his Pardon to all such Non-Commission Officers, and private Men, who shall have deserted as aforesaid, before this Tenth Day of December 1745, inclusive, and are now in any of the Regiments or Corps in his Majesty's Service. And his Majesty is likewise pleased to declare, That it is his Royal Intention that they shall continue in the same Regiments or Corps they now are, without being molested or claimed by the Officers of the respective Corps to which they did formerly belong.

By his Majesty's Command,
Will. Yonge.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 3, 1862. It is a very long letter, and it contains a great deal of information about the state of the country at that time. It is a very important document, and it is one of the most interesting documents in the collection.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a formal address, and it is the first of its kind since the signing of the Constitution. The President, James Buchanan, is addressing the Congress, and he is doing so in a very formal and dignified manner. He is discussing the state of the Union, and he is also discussing the issue of slavery. He is saying that the Union is in a state of peril, and that the issue of slavery is the cause of this peril. He is also saying that the President has a duty to do what he can to preserve the Union, and that he is doing so. This letter is a very important document, and it is one of the most famous in American history.

This is a copy of the original document, which is a letter from the High Court of China, dated 1911, to the High Court of the United States, regarding the case of the Chinese, etc.

Derby, December 8.

THE Rebels behaved tolerably well in their March Southwards, but have plundered the Country in their Retreat. Many of the best Houses here have suffered. Two of them were taken with their Arms, between Ashbourn and Derby, by a Farmer and two Boys, and were sent to the Camp at Meriden Common. In this Town they demanded Billets for 10,000 Men, but those who computed their Numbers as exactly as possible assure us, that they did not exceed Six thousand three hundred Horse and Foot. The Horse were extremely jaded, and in a bad Condition. In the Number above were many old Men, and Boys of fifteen and sixteen Years of Age, all without Shoes and Stockings.

Coventry, Dec. 9. The Rebels were at Ashbourn on Saturday Morning, and went to Leek that Night. Before they left Ashbourn they shot two Men, one of whom died on the Spot. They have taken all the Horses they could lay their Hands upon, and have plundered and done great Damage. They had 15 Pieces of Cannon, and one Mortar.

[Price Two-Pence.]

Mansfield, Dec. 9. By an Express just arrived from Leek there is an Account, that 1000 of the Rebels marched last Night from thence for Macclesfield, and that at Six this Morning the main Body began to march the same Way, and their Artillery at Eight.

Stafford, Dec. 9. The Van Guard of the Rebels was in Manchester Yesterday, and their main Body at Macclesfield.

Warrington, Dec. 10. By a Messenger sent out of this Town to observe the Motions of the Rebels we hear, that their Foot and Baggage passed by Pendleton Pole, which is one Mile from Manchester, this Morning, and took the Road which leads to Leigh, Wigan and Preston. The same Messenger informs us, that he was told the Horse design'd to stay in Manchester all Night; but we have since heard, that their whole Body have left Manchester, and taken the above Road.

Litchfield, Dec. 11. We have Advices here, that the Rebels left Manchester Yesterday, marching Northwards; and that his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland had made two fore'd Marches after them, and continued in Pursuit of them.
